ACTIVE IMAGINATION

Children are masters of using their imaginations but when creating a themed play space, units like castles and boats can really add some extra merit to a scheme.

And this doesn't mean the physical play value and challenge will be diminished. In fact, features like tunnels and ropes can really help reinforce the aesthetic of your concept while creating additional active engagement. Other details might include some bespoke engravings with your own logo or text.

TRIM TRAILS

Tried and tested, trim trails are a great way to introduce some physical challenge to your playground. They're versatile and can also be arranged to suit almost any space and budget.

Another advantage of Trim Trail equipment can be achieved by optimising your available area using low level items to create a cluster. Not only will this cram in more features, it also eliminates the requirement to supply safety surfacing.

DID YOU KNOW..?

All of our Trim Trail equipment is available in either a Round Pole or a Square Post version!

Many of our most popular items can also be adjusted to suit different age groups. That could mean lowering hand grips for younger users or making things more challenging for older children. To discuss our options further or arrange a FREE SITE VISIT AND CONSULTATION, please get in touch!

LOG CLIMBERS

Using irregular angles and configurations, Log Climbers probably offer the most challenging landscape to be found in a modern play space. Combining chunky poles and reinforced ropes they're a durable option.

Suitable for children aged 6 or 7 through to early teens, they can be a versatile centre piece and, although very impressive to look at, our Pico Log Climbers can also blend in very well with the natural surroundings of a country park or village green.

If you're planning a more naturalistic look, we can manufacture your ropes using muted colours or supply your Pico Log Climber with a green slide. Of course we can also use multi-coloured ropes or a mixture of colours if you're looking to make more of an impact!

TODDLER TOWERS

Hugely popular due to their versatility and modular configurability, our Toddler Tower range can be as large or small and include as many or as few features as required.

In fact, the toddler tower system can be used to create play units suitable for older age groups or to include imaginative play features like those found on some of our castle and boat play structures. The possibilities really are endless.

SWINGS AND ROUNDABOUTS

Sometimes you can't beat the classics and Swings and Roundabouts are probably the most traditional play features of all time.

Springboard Project, Horsham

And we have a vast range of options available too, including inclusive products for less able children and wheelchair users. Swings and roundabouts do require some safety surfacing though, so please contact us for more advice on what is best suited to your upcoming project.

SPORTS AND FITNESS

An alternative solution to a play requirement, especially if older children and young teens are the main focus, is a sports or fitness scheme. This could be a multi games area or some outdoor gym equipment.

We've designed and built many bespoke sports and games areas to suit the requirements of our clients.
